THE TEA TRADE AT CANTON

HE following Notification has been issued by Her Britannic Majesty's Consul at Canton:-Notification

BRITISH CONSULATE, CANTON, February 26, 1869. Representations having been made to the uindersigned with reference to the difficulties experienced in obtaining the due fulfilment of contracts through the failure of the Teamen and Brokers to supply Teas in bulk according to the muster upon which they were purchased, he brought the matter, in conjunction with the Consul for the United States, before the Chinese authorities, with a view to devising some mode by II AS on hand a large Stock of COAL of tified. It is obvious that the remedy lay ply Steamers and Sailing Vessels with quick to a great extent in the hands of the purchase of chasers themselves, by the refusal of the Teas if they were inferior to the samples: but difficulties interpose in following this course, such as Tonnage having been engaged, advices having gone forward, and others unnecessary to mention. Moreover, as the rejection of a chop was little likely to cause loss or damage to the Teaman owing to market fluctuations, no unwillingness was felt en his part to such a result in fact, it was an encouragement to fraudulent practices. The undersigned was therefore of opinion that compelling the fulfil ment of contracts or enforcing what is termed an "equitable cut" for inferior quality, were necessary measures, if trade was to be conducted on anything like a sound basis; he therefore directed his attention to devising a mode of arbitration or proceeding by means of which the expenses and delay of a Chinese court of law might be avoided. It is not worth while to detail the particulars of the proposition he made as, after long negociations, it was rejected by the Tea guild, who met it by a counter proposition that if Tea when delivered was not equal to muster, it should be rejected Seeing that no amicable arrangement could be arrived at, the undersigned, in conjunction with the Consul for the United States, requested the Chinese authorities to notify to the Teamen, brokers, and others, that the utmost rigour of the law would be enforced in all cases of fraudulent practices and he hopes that the Proclamation which bas been issued accordingly, a copy of translation of which is annexed, will have the effect intended, by shewing the parties against whom it is directed that they will not escape with impunity from the consequences of their misdeeds. (Signed) D. B. ROBERTSON,

Proclamation by CHEN, Magistrate of the Nanhai District, and YANG, Magistrate of the P'wangyu District :--We have received instructions from his Honor the Financial Commissioner, embot the Globe. dying orders from his Excellency the Viceoy in tenor as follow :—

"The Viceroy received a communication on the 20th August last from the British Consul, Mr Robertson, to the effect that he has been addressed by the British merchants at Cauton with reference to the great loss and detriment to their trade caused by the inferior qualities of the Teas supplied by the Teamen, notwithstanding their contracts to deliver Tens according to muster. The practice appears to be that the Teaprokers take round samples of Teas, and the merchants after inspecting and tasting heir qualities and arranging for the price to be paid for the chop, with the weight ir picula and the time of delivery, engage tonnage by vessels proceeding to England and when the Teas agreed for arrive in Canton, they are found on inspection to be not only far inferior in quality to the sample supplied, but largely mixed with what are called 'lie-teas,' or leaves of plants of all kinds prepared to imitate the genuine tea. This has now become the regular practice, and it is necessary that some measures should be taken to put an end to the frauds which are thus perpetrated. therefore urges that measures be devised with this end in view, etc., etc. The U.S. Consul, Mr King, has also made a similar representation. On receipt of the foregoing the Viceroy ordains that a notification be issued to the Tea dealers with injunctions to be laid upon them for their obedience." The Magistrates being in receipt of the above instructions, have to issue a notification in pursuance of their tenor; and we do therefore accordingly proclaim for the instruction of all members of the Tea Meetings; News of the Week, Commercial Trade, that it is an obvious duty to make -honesty and good faith the guiding princi-Advertisements will be charged Tls. 1 ples of commerce with foreign merchants, and that to cherish frauduleut designs can in no wise be permitted. They should, moreover, bear in mind that to e bulk of the Tea export has been confined of late years to the ports of Fukien, whilst the local trade in Canton tens itself has at the same time , languished in an unusual degree. BAD DOLLARS. THE "shroffage nuisance," as it might well be termed, is beginning to tell much more hardly than formerly upon the great bulk of foreign residents in China. In mercantile transactions where goods is good-or bad; for we believe less are bought or sold wholesale for a certain weight of silver, or at banks where a most complete organization is provided for accuracy in all matters connected with bullion, this inconvenience is reduced to a minimum. And so long as small accounts, the means of detecting men in business for themselves were hardly to be found, and professional men were even more scarce; but little notice was taken of an inconvenience which was regarded as but trifling in view of the gigantic fortunes to be acquired despite the squeezes of Shroffs, Compradores, and Banks. The journal in question adds by way the Bank authorities thoroughly know the gigantic squeezing carried on by these men!" We should be loth to endorse such an assertion, as it would imply that certain gentlemen resident in China are downright rogues. Nothing, however, would effectually do away with the nuisance Europeans; and this would involve the payment of a reasonable salary, which the native now squeezes for himself.

Whatever may be said, however, as to the causes, the existing evil is undeniable and we would specially beg the attention of the Government to the question, With such able financial residents as Hongkong possesses some means could surely be devised of gradually introducing a currency which like that at home irritation is felt at the occasional discovery of a bad dollar than the ever harrassing discussion as to the number of cents each particular dollar is short. Be it remembered that with the increase of more frequent use of money to pay light or partly spurious dollars gets less and less. Sir Richard MacDonnell will confer a lasting benefit upon the Colony if he can discover a means of obviating the present unsatisfactory state of affairs. The foregoing remarks may throw some light upon the failure of the mint. Money is not the root of all evil, as misquoters; of Scripture, make, it. It is "the love of money," the determination to be rich, to sacrifice all to success, to money, and what money will bring in this world, which is the root of all evil and which brings men into temptation gand a snara (1 Tim. vi. 9). It is not a contemptible thing to attain a competency; to provide things honest in the sight of all men; to have the means of living a life of external refinement, and free from the orinding cares of poverty 4 to give our children a good education; to surround them with pleasant associations; and to leave them provided against want, or with the means of reasonable success in life. Money represents many blessings, and the absence of many evils; but money per se, money got for imoney's sake, and irrespective of higher motives, is a curse to its possessor. The gold and silver is cankered when this is the case. Better the bitterest trials and hardest self-denials of poverty than this. But wealth honestly obtained by a life of integrity and industry, by a life which makes the "main chance" not money, but the higher things of the spiritual life, is a good thing, a gift of God to be received gratefully and used wisely. And it will como in most cases, and in due proportion, where a man seeks first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and gives diligent attention to his lawful calling. The absurd and even wicked idea of asceticism cherished and maintained by the Romish church that poverty in itself is a good thing, that it is necessarily associated with high moral eracter and with Christian self-denial is one which a very few years of practical life will soon dispel. Let a man once know the grinding, wearing, depressing influence of poverty, and he will not hesitate to reckon it among the greatest evils of life, and one to be avoided by the most strenuous and determined efforts. Yet better honourable poverty than ill-gotten wealth; better Andraw Marvell's mean fare and integrity than a king's bribe; and better a life of honest endeavour, though unsuccessful, than success attained by meretricions arts, or than by wealth attained by "rigging the market." It is curious to read Job's piteous complaint, and to think that had it been otherwise with him, had his life been undisturbed by afflictions, and his plans and purposes been fulfilled to his heart's content, we should never have heard of him and his patience, nor have seen God's glory manifested in his dealings with him He might have lived and died as all his fathere had done, useful perhaps, and honoured in the land of Uz. but never heard of beyoud it. He was conscious while he uttered this complaint, that his purposes had been good; he could not understand why they had been broken off, because he could no know what great purposes God had designed for him ; and the very darkness which now surrounded him was a part of tha design in order that his faith might stand out in brighter colours to the glory of God, when rising above his anguish, he uttered such memorable words as these, "Though he slav me vet will I trust in him." It may comfort some one who, like Job, mourns the fall of earthly hopes and purposes, to think of God's purposes, and endeavour to throw himself submissively into them in the assurance that they are best. If we feel disapbountment when some obcrished purpose o good, or plan of usefulness, is broken off by God's providential hand, let us try to realize that he knows best what is for the advancement of his kingdom, and what is best he will do. He may have better work for tis, or he may have fitter instruments for performing this work or this work itself may not be so good in his sight as ours. We are disappointed perhaps, because having entered upon it with prayer, we cannot carry it out; but let us consider that this may be His way of answering that prayer; our purposes are broken off that a better purpose may stand Oh what peace there is in so submitting the will to that of the Father, that His purposes may be the chief desire of the heart!

THE STORY OF AN OLD CLOCK In a quiet country town in New Hampshire, near the Maine line, stands an ancient whose appearance and surroundings indicate its occupation for many generations. Tall trees have grown up around it and a wealth of tangled shrubbery and vines lend it an air of home like quiet, so common to New England rural scenes. The place is an old homestead of a family named Blasdell, who, for four generations, have called it their home. Within this dwelling and forming a prominent feature of its antique appointments, stands, like a gi sentry in his box, an old-fashioned eight-day clock. To a casual observer there is nothing remarkable in the appearance of thi ancient time-piece, for it is ancient, as i inscription across its face ... Nicholas Bla dell, maker, Glasgow, 1738"-plainly tell Such clocks are not rare in the old settle communities at the East; but a peculiar value is attached to this particular clock Not only had it been in the family for up wards of a century, but it was the handiwork of their remotest ancestor in America. Nicholas had been a clockmaker Glasgow, and had acquired a little property. But the brothers were young, enterprising, and ambitious. Glasgow offered no inducements to active enterprise, and the newslfrom the far-off land of America was well calculated to stimulate their youthful ardor. They determined to seek their fortunes in the Colonies, and packing up their effects, including the new clock died unmarried, but Nicholas took to himself a wife, and was blessed with a family Before leaving Scotland he had acquired a piece of land near the city of Glasgow, but perty was frequently made the subject about the family hearth, with many curious Very soon came from all parts men and speculations regarding it. EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. -Some time ago we had occasion to remark CAUTION .-- Any one SELLING SPURIOUS | upon the progress that Literature as repredeserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on China and Japan, published monthly by Mr. Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally s mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers. (From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Huddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "London Examiner," May 16, 1868.)

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan"] is intended as guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally ... It contains an a count, historical and political, of all the Liscellaneous.

Paking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macso, will has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds. considerably enhance its value. * * * We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Cauton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remaind r of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns.

A complete and intelligible plan of the Imperial City and neighbourhood, gives us an accurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places. In the introductory chapter to the notices of the Treaty l'orts of Japan will be found a succinct history of that Empire, together with remarks on its government, geography, and limits, which will be found particularly interesting as throwing a considerable light on a part of the world so long entirely, and still comparatively, unknown to Europeans. The descriptions of Nagasaki, Yedo, Yokohama, and the other Treaty Ports of Japan, are as elaborate and entertaining as those of the Chinese ports. A copious index and a useful appendix containing many hints and much appropriate advice to travellers and others, is also included in the volume. The entire work affords a vast The scope of this work includes detailed amount of information, pleasantly written, descriptions of important Sites and Monu- and we doubt not will be perused with MENTS, notes on the CLIMATE and general interest by many who will never visit the
